

Cody Toscano
Ballet/ Pre-professional Training Program

Originally from Tucson Arizona, Cody was raised and trained most of her youth in California's Bay Area. She trained in all genres of dance and trained in gymnastics and eventually chose Classical Ballet as her focus. Cody worked with Georgina Coleman, Ronni Mahler and Dennis Nahat and San Jose Cleveland/Ballet San Jose of Silicon Valley. Working close as a student/apprentice with their company gave Cody the dream of a life in the Arts.

Cody has danced and taught all over the west coast. Working with some companies like San Jose Cleveland Ballet, Ballet San Jose, San Jose Youth Ballet, Peninsula Ballet and California Ballet, Cody also has worked on several independent projects throughout the years bringing so many amazing influences to her life. She is very thankful that she has had such a long and beautiful connection with the stage through her life.

Cody now has an amazing family and is happy to be relocating back to the San Diego area! Her passion for teaching has only grown as she takes on new chapters in her life. She has taught for 15 years and continues to grow. Passion for clean and pure classical technique combine with a draw to choreography has given her the fire to create and set many pieces and now full length Classical and Contemporary Ballets for her students and other young adult artists.

Her students train to their specific need and ability. "Each artists journey is different and requires a specific recipe."-CT.

Cody trains dancers for International Competitions such as Youth America Grand Prix along with Commercial preparations for a well-rounded career. Many of her students have now placed and won awards, received placements and scholarships into prestigious year-round and summer intensives.

Several of Cody's students are now working in the professional world or attending some of the country's top Colleges in pursuit of a degree in dance.

Always open and ready for new growth, Cody is extremely excited to now root herself in new programs and projects. The possibilities are endless when you live with Arts in your life!
